

Salient Federal Solutions Acquires Command Information

Company Broadens Cyber Security Capability and Expands Access to Clients through Prime Position on ENCORE II Contract

FAIRFAX, VA — March 2, 2011 — Salient Federal Solutions, Inc. (Salient), a leading provider of Federal IT and engineering solutions, today announced the acquisition of Command Information and its wholly-owned subsidiary AnviCom, a premier provider of net-centric information technology services and solutions for government and industry, headquartered in Alexandria, VA. This acquisition will deepen Salient's software development capability, extend its cyber security offerings, and enhance access to clients through a prime position on the ENCORE II contract vehicle.

A market leader in IPv6 technology, Command Information brings technology, consulting and engineering expertise in cyber security and deep packet inspection to the expanding generation of modern networks. The company's strong legacy in enterprise transportation services and solutions has earned it SEI CMMI® Level 3 certification for the past five years.

"For nearly 20 years Command Information and its wholly-owned subsidiary, AnviCom, have successfully developed and maintained complex systems with a tremendously talented team of experts," said Brad Antle, president and CEO of Salient. "The addition of the Command Information and AnviCom teams to our company will allow us to further fulfill our mission to deliver highly adaptive technology and engineering solutions that enable clients to meet the pressing needs of today."

Specifically, with the acquisition of Command Information, Salient will have a significant presence at the United States Transportation Command, providing 24/7/365 tracking of in-transit cargo worldwide. Additionally, Salient will be at the forefront of IPv6 intrusion detection and prevention through the offering of Assure6,™ an award-winning enterprise-wide IPv6 policy management product. Most importantly, existing and potential customers will have direct, streamlined access to the company's services, through DISA's Encore II IDIQ contract.
